Please join us on Tuesday February 13th at UMass Lowell, for our Operations Management Student Night. UMass Lowell will be catering this event, offering a delicious hot turkey meal. This event will give students from all majors the chance to network with Operations Management professionals, as well as meet fellow students whom share the same interests. There will be open discussion sessions in between networking on Life in the Operations Management profession. The night is designed to provide an opportunity for students to network with professionals in diverse roles within the operations management field...and have a great meal and a fun time for only $15 for all students.

This event is a must for students and there will be tips for job-seeking professionals who are looking to leverage their skills and knowledge in the operations/supply chain field, as well. See below for a description of the fun events being held!

Scavenger Hunt:

Enter for your chance to win 1 of 2 great AMAZON gift cards. Simply go around to each member listed on your sheets and start networking. Find out what interesting fact belongs to which of our industry professionals. Those that complete the sheet accurately and in time will be entered to win the prizes. The first name drawn will win $25 and the second will win $10. Even if you don't win, you get the chance to network with industry professionals and get a head start on your future, TODAY!

Speed Networking Activity:

Ever gone speed dating? For those of us who have, we know it's a fast-paced way to meet a whole bunch of people you're never going to talk to again. However, every once in a while, there is that spark that brings two people together.

Now, take that idea and apply it to your career, and that's what we have for you at our Student Night. Speed Networking is your chance to have quick, yet valuable discussions with industry leaders in Supply Chain and Operations Management. Now is your chance to have great conversations, and hopefully land that spark that sets you on your path to a great career.
